

List of Contributors

Heike Becker lectured in Sociology at the University of Namibia and is now Associate Professor at the Department of Anthropology and Sociology at the University of the Western Cape in South Africa.

Andre du Pisani is Professor of Politics at the University of Namibia. Formerly he held academic appointments at four South African universities.

Christoph Emminghaus PhD, is Managing Director of Rambøll Management Consulting GmbH in Berlin, Germany.

Gerhard Erasmus is Emeritus Professor of Public Law at the University of Stellenbosch, South Africa and is an associate of the Trade Law Centre for Southern Africa (tralac) in Stellenbosch, South Africa.

Christiaan Keulder lectured in Politics at the University of Namibia and is the Managing Director of the SURVEY WAREHOUSE (PTY) LTD in Windhoek, Namibia.

Gilton Klerck, PhD, is senior lecturer at the Department of Sociology & Industrial Sociology at the Rhodes University in Grahamstown, South Africa.

Henning Melber, PhD, former Director of the Namibian Economic Policy Research Unit (NEPRU) in Windhoek, is the Director of the Dag-Hammarskjöld-Foundation in Uppsala/Sweden.

Antonie Nord, PhD, is Regional Director of the Southern Africa Office of the Heinrich Böll Stiftung in Capetown, South Africa.

Martin Sycholt, former lecturer at the University of Namibia is now research manager at the Eastern Cape Socio-Economic Consultative Council in East London, South Africa.

Gerhard Töttemeyer is a retired professor of Political and Administrative Studies at the University of Namibia. He was Namibia's first Director of Elections and was appointed as Deputy Minister of Regional, Local Government and Housing and served as member of Parliament.