

Call for “Green Economy” project partners

Are you currently looking for a partner in order to implement a project in the field of climate change and renewable energy?

Outline:

The Konrad Adenauer Foundation in Ramallah is inviting tenders for a joint project in the field of climate change, “green economy” and renewable energy, which aims to promote sustainability and economic growth in Palestine. The fund available is limited to 140.000 NIS. Projects should start after Ramadan and terminate by the end of the year.

Goals:

All projects shall aim at reducing environmental damage and increasing sustainable development by fulfilling the following collaborative actions:

- Creating open and competitive markets
- Promoting the awareness of the biological “life cycle” and sustainable development
- Improving crop and livestock production practices to increase food yields, food security and a stable income for the producers while reducing CO² emissions
- Increasing and expanding of electricity generation from renewable sources
- Developing of modern and energy-efficient technologies in regard to transportation, industry and building

The general aim is to provide useful information to national and international practitioners and stakeholders through workshops, scientific studies and publications.

Wanted:

Proposals for project implementations including a detailed time and finance plan will be accepted until July 1st. Please use the template provided on our homepage (<http://www.kas.de/palaestinensische-gebiete/en/>) and send all required documents to: proposals.ramallah@kas.de.

Find us on facebook

Konrad Adenauer Stiftung Palestinian Territories