About Us

We are a political foundation that is active in 18 forums for civic education and regional offices throughout Germany. Around 100 offices abroad oversee projects in more than 120 countries. Our headquarters are split between Sankt Augustin near Bonn and Berlin.

Konrad Adenauer and his principles define our guidelines, our duty and our mission. The foundation adopted the name of the first German Federal Chancellor in 1964 after it emerged from the Society for Christian Democratic Education, which was founded in 1955.

We are committed to peace, freedom and justice at the national and international level. Our primary concerns are strengthening democracy, the rule of law and personal responsibility at home and throughout the world, as well as promoting European integration and international cooperation.

In the following, you can find an introduction to our work. More detailed information is available at www.kas.de.

Mission Democracy!

Political foundations provide services that are in the public interest and do so in a spirit of openness. They are largely financed by funds from the German federal and state level as well as from the European Union. By carrying out the tasks laid down in our statutes, the Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung aims to help shape the future of our community.

Our diverse range of services is aimed at encouraging citizens who are interested in politics to participate in society. We all need to seize the opportunity and influence future developments and changes. We are closely associated with the CDU, but our focus, legal basis and financing are independent of the party. Our activities are open to anyone who is committed to democracy and our values.

We want to discuss the issues of our time with you. We want to stress different views and solutions, encourage you to have your say, and to convey a perspective that builds on the fundamentals of our Christian Democratic approach.

We look forward to meeting you!
