

Climate Change Pg 2 book to be launched

By our Correspondent

A BOOK on Climate Change and its consequences on Socio-economic Development in Tanzania will be launched tomorrow at the National Museum and House of Culture, Dar es Salaam.

The book has been published in collaboration with the Civic Education Teachers' Association (CETA) and Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung (KAS) Tanzania.

The book covers Climate Change and the consequences on Socio-economic Development in Tanzania. This launch and presentation will be officiated by the Minister of State in the Vice-President's Office (Environment). It will be thereafter followed by a debate of CETA students and teachers on the question how awareness on climate change can be taken to the classrooms and how teachers and students can best tackle the challenges of climate change.

After welcome notes by Mr Salim Olotu, the Executive Director of CETA, and Stefan Reith, Resident Representative KAS Tanzania, said the new school book on climate change will be presented by Mr Finias Magesa, an expert on climate change.
