

ANNUAL WORKSHOP OF KAS' AFRICAN EXPERT GROUP ON INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE, 2018

MEETING OF THE AFRICAN EXPERT STUDY GROUP ON INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE
HELD AT BAHARI BEACH HOTEL, MOMBASA KENYA
7TH - 10TH NOVEMBER 2018

KAS' African Group of Experts on International Criminal Justice comprises of individuals drawn from various parts of Sub-Saharan Africa working as scholars, researchers and/or practitioners in the field of international criminal law. The group meets annually to discuss pertinent matters related to international criminal justice from the African perspective, in addition to peer-reviewing their respective articles that are published annually under the title 'International Criminal Justice in Africa'.

The 2018 workshop was held in Mombasa, Kenya between 7th and 10th November 2018.

Some of the articles that were peer-reviewed include:

- Human Rights and the Obligation to prosecute War Crime: Review Criticism of the Decision of the African Commission in the Case of Kilwa in DRC.
- Enforcing cooperation differently: Time to criminalize active non-cooperation in the Rome Statute?
- Reflections on the Norm against the Unconstitutional Changes of Government in Africa: Is it a Triumph or Mere Conjecture for Justice?
- Towards an International Criminal Law Regime for the Regulation of the Exploitation of Natural Resources: Africa as Pioneer
- Future Trends of International Criminal Justice in Africa: An International, Hybrid Or Domestic Trajectory?
- Burundi-ICC: Trial of Strength over Burundi's Duty to Cooperate with Respect to the Situation in Burundi
- The Socio-Political Context of Complementarity: ICC and Narratives of Justice in Kenya
- Nigeria and Preliminary Examinations at the International Criminal Court
- The dilemma of "peace and justice" facing the Special Criminal Court in Central Africa Republic.

The aforementioned articles will form part of the International Criminal Justice in Africa Report for the year 2018. For more information about the group, the previous reports and other relevant documents and articles visit <https://www.icjafrika.com>
