

The end of World War Two and its consequences

Scholarly and didactic seminar for teachers

Friday – October 2, 2015

15.15 Presentation of participants

15.45 Opening of the conference

Historical section

16.00 – Viliam Kratochvíl, university professor and didactic – Migration as a phenomenon of the present and the past

16.30 – Peter Juščák, writer – History of GULAG camps and Czechoslovak citizens in GULAG camps

17.15 – Miroslav Pollák – Exodi (forced moves of ethnic or religious groups, of individuals in 20th century in Spiš region in Eastern Slovakia)

18.00 – Jana Kerekrétyová – The postwar exchange of inhabitants between Czechoslovakia and Hungary

Discussion

19.00 – dinner

Didactic section

19.45 – Workshops with artist Fero Guldan

20.15 – Petr Pánek, Ostrava, OZ PANT – presentation of didactic materials, web portal modernidejiny.cz, and didactic DVDs

SATURDAY October 3, 2015

07.00 – 8.30 – breakfast

Teachers for teachers (innovations, didactics)

08.00 – František Neupauer – Will Rudolf Dobiáš get the Nobel Prize for literature? (The use of the short stories and poems by Rudolf Dobiáš in teaching of history)

08.20 – Jaroslav Pinkas, didactic – Didaktical materials of ÚSTR (The Institute for Study of Totalitarian Regimes, Czech Republic)

10.00 – Juraj Marušiak, political scientist – World War Two and its consequences

10.20 – Beáta Barlová, Alica Virdzeková – Innovations in history teaching

discussion

Seen by the young professionals

11.00 – Filip Hric, psychologist – Young person and virtual reality

11.30 – Matúš Sitár, philosopher – “Deed” (moral dilemmas, dilemmas of individual persons)

12.45 – Matúš Záhradník – How is history taught in Peru?

13.00 – Natália Benčíčová, artist – Mute witnesses

Discussion

Evaluation of the event

13.30 – lunch

14.30 – Excursion to the military bunker BS4 in Petržalka

16.00 – Planned end