

Call for Applications
KAS Greece Political Academy
Loutraki, 13-15 May 2016

Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung Greece welcomes applications to its first Political Academy which will take place from 13 to 15 May 2016 in Loutraki.

The Political Academy offers skills development for young people who already are or want to be involved in student, youth, and local politics, as well as the civil society. Through the KAS Political Academy the participants will have the chance to get a broader understanding about the complex political, social and economic environment of Greece and the EU, and get familiar with the values of the European centre-right. The objective of the Political Academy is to provide the participants with knowledge and technical expertise in order to enhance their ability to shape their political argumentation.

For those interested, the KAS Political Academy offers a unique opportunity to acquire new knowledge and skills through the interaction with academics, experts and political actors. Certificates of participation will be awarded.

The Call is open to applicants up to 35 years old, with a very good command of English and Greek, active involvement in political affairs and/or the civil society, as well as a keen interest in European and Greek politics

In order to apply please fill in the relevant application form and send it by 28 April 2016 to the following email address: Jeroen.Kohls@kas.de. For more information, please send your queries to the same email address.

Find more information on the Greece Office of the Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung and its activities check the following link: <http://www.kas.de/griechenland/en/>.